An excellent terraced house in nice, residential location, on the edge of Kosutnjak forest. The street is very peaceful, isolated from the city noise. There is a sport center and pool complex on the walking distance. Also, in the immediate vicinity are few busy roads, with all necessary commercial facilities for comfortable life. The entire house had been refurbished several years ago. It has very good layout and spreads over 4 levels. The ground floor features a living room, dining area, nice kitchen and a restroom. On the two upper levels are 5 bedrooms with two bathrooms, while the loft is also well arranged, with skylights and heating, and currently used for a gym space. In the lowest level is a garage space, as well as a smaller apartment with two rooms, bathroom and kitchen. There is a nice, well-arranged yard with auxiliary house of two rooms. The ambience of this nice house is very bright and comfortable, equipped with furniture in modern forms, with lots of interesting details that complement the warm home environment. The ideal facility for the life of a big family
